AQUO

SELF WATERING RESERVOIR

Thanks to Opti-flor's ingenious watering system Aquo, the plant takes care of its own water needs. Fill up the watersupply in the reservoir promptly, and your plant 'drinks' just the right amount for optimal growth and flowering.

Thanks to the Aquo self-watering reservoir, your orchid 'drinks' water via the 'straw'.

Remove the orchid from the reservoir before watering. Fill the reservoir up to the line.

Do not give too much water, make sure that the plant is not standing in the water. There must be sufficient water in the reservoir, the straw must hang in the water.
